May 2010

Dear _____,

This weekend I am at Kas Ka Ra, the spring performance presented by the Brisbane Dance Workshop: fireflies dance, catfish commune, and adventures abound in the bayou! For 29 years Brisbane Dance Workshop has brought joy to its students, their families and the community through performance and the performing arts. BDW offers 6 days a week of after-school and weekend classes, taught by professional artists from the San Francisco area. Students can walk to class after school, enjoying a full performing arts curriculum that builds confidence, poise and the opportunity to create as a group.

Only a portion of annual expenses are covered by class fees. Costs for costume design, costume creation, production lighting and artist fees require fundraising. BDW is important to me. I'm asking friends and family to help me raise the funds we need to keep dancing, acting and singing alive in Brisbane. Could I ask for your help, a donation of any size (tax-deductible, of course)? We'll send you a thank you for your records.
